OFFICIAL SIGNING CEREMONY FOR TSIKARISTISERE TRUST

In January 2025, the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne was proud to announce the successful signing ceremony of the Tsikaristisere Trust, which took place at the Tsi Snaihne Recreation Center. This event marked the formal establishment of the trust, with Trustees and Council members officially signing the documents in the presence of community members.

In 2015, Canada presented a Land Claim Settlement Offer to the Mohawks of Akwesasne, including the opportunity to reclaim 18,282 acres of land through Canada's Additions to Reserve Process and a monetary settlement of $239,808,436.00. This settlement addressed claims related to the historically leased lands known as Tsikaristisere, or 'Dundee.'

Following negotiations, the final agreement was put to a referendum vote, conducted online and by ballot from October 1 to December 8, 2018. The community approved the settlement, with the results validated on January 7, 2020.

The creation of the Tsikaristisere Trust marks a major milestone in this journey, reflecting a commitment to responsibly manage the settlement's resources. The Trustees are tasked with holding, managing, and investing the Trust Property in accordance with the terms of the agreement for the benefit of the Beneficiaries. A primary priority of the Trust is the purchase of land to be set apart as reserve land for the Mohawks of Akwesasne under Article 3.2 and 5.0 of the Settlement Agreement and additionally, through community consultation, the following areas were identified as community needs and priorities:

- Land management activities and programs, including the Additions to Reserve process;
- Education or training;
- Advancement of culture, heritage, and/or language;
- Environment;
- Green energy initiatives;
- Economic development;
- Housing;
- Indigenous rights;
- Infrastructure;
- Public safety;
- Emergency;
- Social welfare, health, and/or wellness;
- Sports, recreation, and/or the arts; or
- Other essential public services.

Since the initial payment from Canada, the settlement fund has been in the RBC and as of December 31, 2024, is now valued at $259,683,600.93. These funds are now able to be transferred to the Tsikaristisere Trust, where they will grow at a significantly quicker pace.

Grand Chief Leonard Lazore addressed the significance of the moment, stating: "Tonight marks a milestone in our journey to reclaim what rightfully belongs to our people. This trust represents more than just a financial step; it embodies our people's rights, our collective vision for the future, and the power of what we can achieve when we come together."

Executive Director Shannon Roundpoint added: "When Akwesasne began discussions on the settlement of the Tsi Karistisere claim, the return of land and access to funds for important community needs were the driving hopes that are now becoming a reality. Thank you to the trustees for stepping up into a role that will pave the path for future generations; it will be rewarding for them as well as the community. We also extend our appreciation to the community members who have stayed engaged in this process, and to the technical team for their hard work."

For more information about the trust, please contact the Internal Technical Team (ITT) at itt@akwesasne.ca or ARRO Program Manager Cheyenne Lazore at 613-575-2250 ext. 2134.

RIBBON-CUTTING CEREMONY CELEBRATED OPENING OF SATELLITE TSI SNAIHNE MEDICAL CLINIC

In January 2025, the ribbon-cutting ceremony for the Tsi Snaihne Medical Clinic (TMC) radiated warmth as years of hard work and dedication finally came to fruition. This milestone event, marked the official opening of the much-anticipated satellite clinic, a significant step in bringing healthcare services closer to the residents of Tsi Snaihne.

MCA Grand Chief Leonard Lazore commended the perseverance and teamwork of everyone involved. "This clinic represents a major step forward in ensuring the residents of Tsi Snaihne have access to vital healthcare services close to home. It is a testament to the hard work of the Department of Health, the Health Portfolio Chiefs, and all those who have worked tirelessly on this project."

It was only fitting that Karen Loran had the honor of cutting the ribbon. As a former Tsi Snaihne District Chief and Health Portfolio holder, Karen worked tirelessly over the years, advocating and lobbying for this initiative. Her participation in the ceremony symbolized the culmination of years of dedication and commitment to making this vision a reality.

The Tsi Snaihne Medical Clinic will temporarily operate out of a dedicated space in lakhihsohtha Lodge, with its entrance located at the far end of the building. To ensure the safety of lakhihsohtha residents, the clinic has a separate, secure entrance, designated parking, and strict safety protocols. This design ensures that patients and residents can benefit from this service without compromising health and safety.

The TMC will provide a variety of services, including primary care, blood work clinics, immunizations, diabetes prevention and care programs, Jordan's Principle services, and mental health appointments.

"The opening of the Tsi Snaihne clinic is an example of service delivery that we strive for," said Executive Director Shannon Roundpoint. "Our health department and leaders past and present recognize that there is a strong need to support residents of Tsi Snaihne who are burdened by the remote location of the district. It should not cost community members an hour of travel time to receive basic health services, and I commend all those who recognized this and worked to provide a solution. In addition to supporting residents of Tsi Snaihne, the satellite clinic's services like bloodwork and same-day appointments will serve all community members and is another need the team has heard and addressed."

Amber Montour, former Director of Health added, "This clinic is more than a facility; it is a promise. A promise that our elders will receive care close to home, that families will have access to preventive services, and that every individual will be treated with dignity and compassion."

Nia:wen to everyone involved in bringing this essential service to the residents of Tsi Snaihne.

BUILDING FUTURES: CELEBRATING THE UNVEILING OF THE KAHERI:IO TRADES TRAINING FACILITY

In January 2025, the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne was proud to celebrate the unveiling of the Iohahi:io Trades Building, Kaheri:io. This modern facility represents a transformative step in empowering Akwesasronon with practical, hands-on training opportunities, ensuring a skilled workforce ready to meet the challenges and opportunities of tomorrow.

Purpose-built to provide education in woodworking, welding, construction, and other trades, the Kaheri:io Trades Training Facility embodies innovation, collaboration, and the pursuit of excellence. Its creation was made possible through the partnership of Akwesasne Career & Employment Support Services (ACCESS), the Department of Community & Social Services (DCSS), and the Department of Infrastructure, Housing & Environment (DIHE). The building's creation also stands as a testament to the strength and potential of students, as many played an active role in its construction.

The building was doubled in size thanks to the support of ACCESS, CSP, and DCSS funding. This expansion added two washrooms, a classroom, and a new room designed to house 10 welders. This addition to the building was a collaborative effort, with students who had been trained in trades such as masonry and carpentry working alongside tradespeople as mentors and instructors. These students gained hands-on experience in real-world projects, further solidifying their training and skill development.

The building, located next to Iohahi:io in Tsi Snaihne, currently hosts a Welding course in the evening and a Pathways to Trades course during the day. Iohahi:io is also exploring pre-apprenticeship programs, as well as pre-employment offerings, to continue expanding opportunities for the community.

The grand opening brought together community leaders, staff, and officials to celebrate this milestone. Remarks were delivered by Grand Chief Leonard Lazore, alongside Norma Sunday (Associate Director of Post-Secondary & Continuing Education), Russell Roundpoint (Executive Director of ACCESS), Leslie Papineau (Director of DIHE), and Donna Lahache (Director of AMBE). Attendees, including representatives from Iohahi:io, ACCESS, the Community Support Program (CSP), and MP Eric Duncan (SD&G), joined a guided tour led by Trades Training Coordinator Ron Lazore. The event concluded with the unveiling of a commemorative plaque and a ribbon cutting to mark the official opening of the facility.

Grand Chief Leonard Lazore highlighted the profound impact of the facility in his remarks: "It's exciting to see how this new facility is already being utilized to host trade courses. Building a strong labour force is not just about meeting the needs of today, but also about preparing for the challenges and opportunities of tomorrow. This facility will provide our community members with the tools, resources, and training they need to succeed and build sustainable futures."

"It's equally inspiring to hear that students have played an active role in the construction of this project," added Grand Chief, reflecting on what it took to bring the building to life. "This hands-on experience not only helps them develop valuable skills but also provides a sense of pride for everyone who contributed. By participating in opportunities like this, they are truly building their futures—brick by brick."

The Mohawk Council of Akwesasne congratulates the staff of the Iohahi:io Akwesasne Education and Training Institute and the Akwesasne Mohawk Board of Education for their vision, dedication, and achievements. Kaheri:io is more than just a building; it is a beacon of what can be accomplished through collaboration, determination, and shared purpose. Together, we are empowering Akwesasronon to construct sustainable and successful futures.

LIGHTS, CAMERA, CONFIDENCE: AKWESASNE’S FIRST MODEL BOOTCAMP CONCLUDED

In April 2025, a group of aspiring runway stars took their first confident steps into the world of modeling through the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne’s Model Bootcamp, hosted by the Department of Economic Development. After weeks of hard work and hands-on training, participants wrapped up the program with a mock fashion show featuring the stunning designs of Stacey Mitchell.

Friends and family gathered to cheer on the graduates, who showcased their polished runway walks, graceful posing, and growing confidence. Throughout April, participants received expert instruction from Akwesasronon models Steevi King, Ryan King, and Steven Thompson, who were instrumental in building the skills — and self-assurance — of the next generation of Kanien’keha talent.

This free bootcamp also featured special sessions with makeup artists Tisha Thompson and Vanna White, along with skincare tips from medical aesthetician Amanda Wanamaker, helping participants feel their best both inside and out.

A special nia:wen/thank you goes out to all of our instructors and guest speakers for sharing their time, talent, and encouragement!

Economic Development Director Kylee Tarbell shared the following about the growing potential of creative industries for Indigenous communities:

“The entertainment industry; from modeling and film to music and digital content creation, has become one of our fastest-growing sectors, with more and more opportunities emerging for Indigenous people, including here in Akwesasne. As these doors continue to open, it’s important that we prepare our people not only with the skills to succeed but also with the awareness and understanding of the risks that can come with working in this field. Through training sessions like our Introduction to Modeling course, we are helping to build confidence, promote professionalism, and encourage safe practices. Our goal is to ensure that Akwesasronon can engage in these industries with the knowledge, support, and cultural grounding needed to thrive while upholding values of respect and empowerment.”

RED DRESS DAY 2025: MMIWG2S+ HONOURED

In May 2025, the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne stood in solidarity with communities across Canada in recognizing Red Dress Day, held annually on May 5 as a day of remembrance and action in honour of Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women, Girls, and Two-Spirited People (MMIWG2S+). Red Dress Day brings visibility to the deep injustices and violence faced by Indigenous women, girls, and 2SLGBTQ+ individuals. This crisis has touched every First Nations community and continues to leave lasting pain and trauma in its wake. We honour the lives lost, the families left behind, and the voices that continue to call for justice.

We recognize that this is not only a crisis, but a deeply rooted issue that calls for continued action, accountability, and change.

The violence faced by Indigenous women, girls, and Two-Spirited people has been ongoing for generations and must not be ignored. Their lives matter, and their memories must fuel meaningful change.

MARKING MILESTONES: CAREY TERRANCE JR. SIGNED IONKWAKWÉ:NION BOOK OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS

In May 2025, the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne and the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe came together at the A'nowara'ko:wa Arena to celebrate the extraordinary achievements of one of Akwesasne's own — Carey Terrance Jr. The event coincided with the 2025 season home opener for the Akwesasne Jr. B Thunder, setting the perfect stage to recognize a young man who continues to inspire both on and off the ice.

Before the game, Grand Chief Leonard Lazore delivered a warm welcome and presented Carey with a beautifully beaded medalion featuring the Anaheim Ducks logo — a symbol of both his accomplishments and his roots. In his address, Grand Chief Lazore remarked that “we honor one of our brightest athletes” and emphasized the importance of representing Akwesasne with pride and heart. He also gave heartfelt thanks to the coaches, volunteers, parents, and caregivers who uplift youth sports in the community, saying their time and dedication leave a lasting impact on the next generation.

The evening was made even more meaningful with the reintroduction of the Ionkwakwé:nion Book of Accomplishments — a tribute to Akwesasronon who excel in academics, athletics, arts, culture, and leadership. Reviving this cherished tradition, Carey was the first to sign the book under the current Council, making his mark not only in the world of sports but also in community history.

Carey Terrance Jr. is no stranger to success. At just 20 years old, he has earned gold with Team USA, played in three IIHF World Junior Championships, and signed a three-year NHL contract with the Anaheim Ducks — making him the first Akwesasronon to reach these historic milestones. The celebration took place on the very floor where he once played both hockey and lacrosse as a youth — a full-circle moment that touched the hearts of all in attendance.

What sets Carey apart isn't just his talent, but his unwavering humility, strong work ethic, and connection to home. He carries Akwesasne with him wherever he goes, serving as a powerful symbol of perseverance and possibility for Indigenous youth across Turtle Island.

During the first intermission, the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribal Chiefs presented Carey with their Hometown Hero Award, recognizing individuals who embody hope, perseverance, and commitment. Following the ceremony, Carey Jr. was welcomed by fans of all ages during a community autograph session, where he graciously signed cards, hats, jerseys, and more — leaving many with memories to treasure and stories to tell.

Carey's journey is a testament to what can be achieved with discipline, determination, and heart. His story reminds us that greatness isn't just about breaking records — it's about lifting others up and staying grounded in who you are and where you come from.

To the youth of Akwesasne: dream big, work hard, and never lose sight of your goals. With determination in your spirit and the support of your community behind you, there are no limits to what you can achieve.

CELEBRATING AKWESASNE ART: KIRBY THOMPSON'S MURAL UNVEILED AT SIBC

In June 2025, the Seaway International Bridge Corporation (SIBC) proudly hosted a meaningful and vibrant event celebrating the unveiling of a new mural 'Three Sisters' by Kirby Thompson, a talented Akwesasronon artist and daughter of Chief Vince Thompson of the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne (MCA). Kirby, who also works at SIBC, continues to use her art to uplift and reflect the spirit of the Akwesasne community.

The Three Sisters hold a sacred place in Haudenosaunee culture and storytelling. Corn, beans, and squash, known as the Three Sisters, are not only traditional staple crops but also symbolize balance, sustainability, and the strength of working together. For generations in Akwesasne, these plants have nourished both the body and spirit, often grown together in the same mound to support one another. The Three Sisters represent an enduring relationship between the people, the land, and each other, values that continue to guide the community today.

The event began with warm welcome remarks from Marc Chénier, Bridge Director of the SIBC. Kirby then shared heartfelt insights into her creative process and the cultural inspiration behind her work. Chief Vince Thompson of MCA and Chair of the Federal Bridge Corporation Limited (FBCL) Natalie Kinloch also offered thoughtful remarks, recognizing the importance of Indigenous voices in public spaces.

The Mohawk Council of Akwesasne extended a heartfelt

In June 2025, Akwasasne Child & Family Services hosted a special Father's Day gathering filled with spirit, culture, and connection. The day featured traditional lacrosse teachings, followed by a meaningful Father and Son Medicine Game — a celebration of family, tradition, and wellness through sport.

A heartfelt niawenhkó:wa goes out to our esteemed Traditional Knowledge Holders, Mike Mitchell and Richard Mitchell, for their powerful tobacco burning ceremony and their invaluable presentation on the traditional knowledge and history of lacrosse. A SUCCESSFUL WEEKEND OF PET WELLNESS & PREVENTION

In June 2025, a Pet Wellness Clinic was held in Akwasasne, which was a huge success — thanks to the incredible collaboration between the Ontario SPCA and Humane Society and the Mohawk Council of Akwasasne!

Over the course of three days:

- 60 spay/neuter surgeries were completed.
- 16 wellness appointments were provided.
- An estimated 3,300 unplanned puppies and kittens were prevented.

Hosted at the Kawehno:ke Recreation Center, this MASH-style event made a meaningful impact for Akwasasronon families and their beloved pets.

ALL HEART, ALL HUSTLE: YOUTH FOOTBALL CAMP RETURNED TO AKWESASNE

In July 2025, the grounds of the A'nowara'kó:wa Arena was full of excitement as the uOttawa Gee-Gees and the Ottawa REDBLACKS returned to host a youth football camp for Akwasasronon!

Led by Gee-Gees quarterback and Tyendinaga's own Ben Maracle, the camp brought together local youth for a day of learning, teamwork, and fun — all with the goal of fostering a love for football in Indigenous communities.

Now in its third year, the camp is a collaborative initiative made possible through the efforts of the Ottawa Redblacks, University of Ottawa Gee-Gees, and the Mohawk Council of Akwasasne. This year's event was proudly supported by the MCA Department of Health, MCA Economic Development, and Akwasasne Child & Family Services, who joined in by leading an energetic ice-breaker and volunteering throughout the day.

Around 30 young participants took part in skill-building drills, met with players during a Q&A session, and sported their official camp t-shirts with pride. The event wrapped up with autographs, photo ops, and plenty of smiles.

A delicious lunch was provided by Big Russ' Catering, featuring Indian tacos, Three Sisters salad, strawberry drink, and desserts — the perfect fuel for a fun-filled day.

Nia:wen to the Gee-Gees, the Redblacks, and all our partners for making this opportunity possible for our youth — your commitment to community and sport continues to make a lasting impact. See you on the field in 2026!

AMPS & HAVFD GAINED NEW TOOLS FOR TOUGH TERRAIN

In July 2025, the Akwesasne Mohawk Police Service and Hogansburg-Akwesasne Volunteer Fire Department participated in a two-day training with their newest emergency response vehicles: Fat Trucks.

These amphibious, all-terrain vehicles are built to take on the most challenging environments — from water to wetlands and everything in between.

With support from both teams and hands-on training, AMPS and HAVFD are enhancing their ability to reach and assist our community safely, no matter the conditions.

TURTLE TIME: CELEBRATING COMMUNITY & CONSERVATION

In August 2025, the MCA Environment Program held its annual turtle release gathering at King's Marina in Tsi Snaihne. Under sunny skies, community members joined the Turtle Team to witness the joyful release of baby snapping turtles from their shells to the shores of Snye.

This year, the team incubated both painted turtles and snapping turtles — two species considered at risk. The painted turtles were released earlier in the season, while the snapping turtles made their way home during our special community event. Each year, the Environment Program works to protect vulnerable nests, incubate eggs, and support hatchlings in safely beginning their journey. These efforts, along with the support of community members, help ensure that these important creatures continue to thrive for generations to come.

In total, 156 turtles were released this year, including 54 snapping turtles at our event in August!

The Turtle Team was joined by community members Dawn Day and Cindy Garrow, who shared traditional stories, legends, and songs about turtles.

The gathering was a beautiful reminder that when Akwesasró:non come together, we not only strengthen our ties to one another, but also protect the land and water that sustain us. Nia:wen/thank you to everyone who joined in giving these turtles the best possible start to a long and healthy life.

ORANGE SHIRT DAY IN AKWESASNE: A DAY OF STRENGTH AND RESILIENCE

In September 2025, Akwesasne came together under bright autumn skies to honor residential school survivors during Orange Shirt Day. Survivors, leaders, community members, youth, and local artists gathered at Generations Park in a spirit of unity and remembrance, creating a day filled with healing, cultural pride, and powerful moments of reflection.

Orange Shirt Day 2025 marked the first time the event was hosted together in partnership by the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne, the Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, and Akwesasronon Sonatanoron, a local non-profit led by survivors and their families. The organization's proposal to Council inspired a community event to honor residential school survivors. Their guidance was central to planning the day in a way that honoured the strength, courage, and resilience of our survivors, while offering space for the community to come together in solidarity and healing.

The day began with a free orange shirt giveaway, featuring designs created entirely by local artists. Each shirt carried teachings, imagery, and stories that honoured our children, elders, and cultural survival.

From there, the community took part in a unity walk, beginning at Mill Street. With support from the Ahkwesasne Mohawk Board of Education's Transportation Services, Seven Dancers Coalition and the Akwesasne Young Women's Singing Group, Route 37 was transformed into a sea of orange. Together, Akwesasró:non reflected, sang, burned tobacco, and carried their good minds into the day.

The walk led into the Travis Solomon Lacrosse Box, where Akwesasne held its first official ceremony honoring residential school survivors. Survivor Billy Sunday opened the ceremony, followed by words from MCA Grand Chief Leonard Lazore, SRMT Sub-Chief Derrick King, Akwesasronon Sonatanoron Executive Director Rick Oakes, and members of lonkwahronkha'onhátie', a grassroots Kanien'kéha language group that expressed gratitude to survivors who continue to guide language revitalization efforts. An honor song, led by Keena King and community singers, filled the space as survivors were gifted quilts by Renee Adams, as well as baskets lovingly made by Shirley Thompson, Denise Jock, and Judy Cole. The gifts were presented to the survivors by Akwesasró:non youth, symbolizing the connection between generations.

The day continued with presentations by Marjorie Skidders and Phillip White-Cree, whose discussions grounded the event in culture and healing. Akwesasne's Youth Hoop Troupe and Ahkwesasne Ratirennenhawi (Akwesasne Men's Singers) brought energy and spirit through dance and song. Attendees enjoyed a Three Sisters sit-down meal along with a variety of refreshments from local food and drink vendors, who provided delicious and nutritious options for the community. Meanwhile, interactive activities and teachings showcased the depth of knowledge, artistry, and spirit within our community. Niawenhkó:wa to everyone who shared their skills and teachings — from the artists, to organizations showcasing their programs, to those offering healing services at the SRMT Senior Center — for creating important spaces for connection, culture, learning, and wellness.

To close the day, laughter and joy rang out as Seven Dancers Coalition and MCA's Traditional Medicines program hosted a spirited medicine game, reminding us of the strength of our people and the healing power of coming together.

The Mohawk Council of Akwesasne extends its deepest gratitude to all survivors, speakers, artisans, youth, volunteers, and partners who made this day possible. Orange Shirt Day in Akwesasne was good medicine — a gathering that honoured the children who never came home, celebrated the resilience of survivors, and strengthened our path forward together.

Every Child Matters.

AKWESASNE RIGHTS & RESEARCH OFFICE

2025 YEAR IN REVIEW

The Akwesasne Rights and Research Office focused in 2025 on advancing claims work while strengthening community understanding and participation in claims and consultation processes. ARRO supported the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne in protecting lands, resources, and inherent rights, while prioritizing community education and transparent engagement

ACHIEVEMENTS IN 2025

1. Claims Advisory Committee

ARRO reactivated the Claims Advisory Committee, reinstating a key forum for community guidance on claims negotiations and settlements. Comprising five community members, the CAC advises the MCA Principal Negotiation Team, reviews relevant materials, and helps ensure negotiation strategies reflect the best interests of the Mohawks of Akwesasne.

The committee also serves as a bridge between negotiations and the community by promoting transparency, maintaining confidentiality, and supporting the development of agreements and communication strategies that respect the community’s rights, history, and future.

2. New York State Claim

The New York State Claim advanced significantly in 2025 with the signing of the settlement agreement by the Mohawk Council of Akwesasne. First announced on January 6, 2025, the claim seeks the return of Akwesasne lands and resources in St. Lawrence and Franklin Counties. Following amendments during negotiations, the agreement was formally signed later in the year, representing a major step forward in this decades-long claim.

The settlement provides benefits for the Mohawks of Akwesane, including up to eight semesters of free tuition at SUNY colleges, the return of lands in the southern portion of Akwesasne, restored access to Baxter, Barnhart, and Croil Islands, nine megawatts of low-cost power in perpetuity, and seventy million dollars in financial compensation over thirty-five years.

3. Seaway Claim

Following the failed 2023 Seaway referendum, ARRO renewed efforts on the Seaway Claim, advancing negotiations while preparing for potential litigation. Originally filed in federal court in 1976, the claim addresses damages to Akwesasne resulting from the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway in the 1950s.

Elders are being consulted to share knowledge and lived experiences that guide both negotiation and legal strategies. The Mohawk Council of Akwesasne and ARRO continue to engage with relevant parties to ensure that all approaches reflect the best interests of the Mohawks of Akwesasne. This work balances careful negotiation with strong legal preparedness while prioritizing transparency and community involvement.

4. Reburial and Repatriation

ARRO continued its work to protect and honor cultural heritage through the reburial and repatriation of Indigenous ancestors and artifacts. Activities were carried out in consultation with the Mohawk Nation Council of Chiefs and in accordance with cultural protocols.

The office also engaged with museums to facilitate the return of items belonging to the Mohawks of Akwesasne and focused on building lasting relationships to improve the effectiveness and timeliness of future repatriation efforts. These initiatives reflect ARRO’s ongoing commitment to cultural respect and stewardship.

Repatriated Stone pipe.
